Championship Off Road Racing ; June 9-10 2007
Chula Vista Ca.

CORR returned back to it's 2005 California roots in Chula Vista California for two rounds of racing this past weekend. This time however, the fans, Pro Class drivers, and Trophy Kart drivers were treated to an entirely new facility and course unlike any other. An off road race course with thirty degree banked turns, long straight away's and huge a 30' drop off was constructed in an area that was once a 150 acre quarry used back in the 1940's. It did not disappoint.....drivers from all over the country, celebrities such a Supercross champions Jeremy McGrath and Ricky Johnson along with a sold out Southern California fan base showed up for a great weekend of racing to be televised on NBC and Speed channels.

Pro Comp Motorsports drivers, Taylor Nicole Snyder and Travis Coyne were there to compete in front of their home town crowd. After Travis's impressive Pro 4 second place finish and action packed Pro 2 race it was up to Taylor to keep the ProComp name near the front of the Trophy Kart pack. Unfortunately a poor "luck of the draw" starting position for the Trophy Kart qualifying race resulted in a mid pack finish. It was enough however to qualify her for Sundays main event. With a mid pack start in a huge field of 24 cars she had her work cut out for her. At the green flag, the car immediately in front of her stalled forcing Taylor and her #27 Trophy Kart to hold back and at the same time allowing another 4 or 5 cars to get in front of her. She then really had some work to do. From that point on however her race was flawless (other than her spotter having to radio her to slow down off the jumps in fear the car would break in half) and Taylor moved her way through the pack. At the checkered flag Taylor crossed the line in a very impressive and well deserved 7th place!

Thanks go out to the crew, Coyne Motorsports, OMF, Enfuego, AG Sand Cars, Mastercraft, 7For all Mankind, as well as MMR, Trophy Kart and CORR for helping making it all possible as well as fun!

Next stop, Del Mar California June 24.
